

The Fundamentals of CHANGE THiNKiNG & DOiNG

90-minute Online Class

Change Measurement Mastery

A Change Risk Assessment should continuously examine elements in both mobilisation and readiness to ensure the change program is on track.

In this master class we explore how to test receptivity of the change and the progressive utilisation requirements needed to hit the change target.

We will teach you how to assess progress against Concept, Acceptance, Readiness and Capability Uplift.

- Plot your success milestones and know how to measure progress against them
- Understand what tactics to apply to get your change back on track

Master Class Learning Outline –Change Measurement Mastery

Topic/ Focus Area	Synopsis	Learning Outcomes
Understanding Change Risk, Engagement and Receptivity Levers	Change Risk assessment is one of the initial inputs for developing your change approach. Being able to mitigate change risk and increase receptivity are critical points to consider and understand when defining how you will achieve both mobilisation and readiness and measuring your change program is on track.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Plot your success milestones and know how to measure progress against them • Understand what tactics to apply to get your change back on track